

PHOENIX

“I’m not going to accept an invitation to tell my story. Maybe you can figure it out along the way. That’s how it’s going to have to be. I’m already dealing with enough secrets. I need to protect them. I need to protect myself. I can’t be that was fun overall. It’s simple. That’s my nature. It could be worse. Indeed, it could be worse. You could try to read between the lines. See you at this place yes. At first, we all want to talk. We talk about our food. We talk about a living space. We talk about the different kinds of visitors. Some care. They respect the space. Brothers are more invasive. There’s just one guy. He drinks a lot. And he likes to talk. He thinks we’re talking about his life, and I’m going to reveal something about mine. It doesn’t work that way. He won’t start. You’re probably met him already. He has opinions. He seems to have some money. He talks about a destination. But he’s been here for a little while. I’m not sure how long he’s going to remain. He’s definitely some kind of interference. I’ve seen him leave your accounts. Or than that, people lose the space. He changes the balance. I’m not sure that I can go along with his perspective. That’s all part of the experience I’m sure you’ve come to me because you want to learn about Phoenix. Do you want to learn about the new economy?”

“A lot of people are tuned into it. I contribute in my own way. Mainly, I do landscaping. It becomes rough during the summer months. I have to question myself. So I can make it happen. We all seem to make it happen. I can save some money. Start a business, just like her every room, every inch of space, all of this. If she could, she would put out the air. She lets us use her Netflix account. The house. It’s built into the house. It’s all part of the experience. Use and park. Advisor ride. They come through here with their lives. There’s some places outback. The motor homes. And the rooms. Everyone has an angle. Everyone’s in and out. They know the dangers. If you don’t stay in the game. You slip under the water. You drown. You suffer in front of everyone. I was willing to make a deal. She’ll give you a monthly rate. It’s a lot of money. Most of us are contractors in one way or another. So we can pull the money together. In fact, there’s so much money to be made here. Even when it gets hot, the same attitude dominates. You can soak off add value from the air. You can re-distribute it. We can take part. That’s why it’s also effective. Anyone can find a place. Anyone can experience the blessings. Therefore anyone can join the faith. And that’s how it works. We are all believers in one way or another. There may be a time in the future where we lose that connection to the face. I can already see it happening. You have to understand how this happens. We all have a vision. It’s one shared vision. We work every day until we die. Those who cannot survive are not part of that fish. We can’t help them out. It’s not our role. Most of us are winners. That’s why we’re here. We’re going to win. I’m going to be victorious in the new economy. We’re going to find a place. For every second that we are on, in meters of seconds that we will acquire and rent out to others. We have cornered vision for the future. We are all part of it. We sacrifice, and we get something back. We sacrifice more, we get a little more back. It is a wonderful pattern. And it keeps building over and over again. We add to it. It’s sediments. It collects. It grows. I’ve already made it.

“I’ve got savings. I’m much closer to having a place. I accept these rules. That is how it works. I know there’s an underlying vision. Like a conspiracy. I accept that. I don’t want to see it in the other way. You can make deals on soap. You can make deals on toilet paper. Can make deals for all this to go. We're buying in bulk. We're buying lives. We're selling lives. I don't want to pretend that it's anything other than it is. There's nothing deep here. There's everything deep here. Ruth gets it all. That's why she's the boss. That's why this is her place. I've met her. But most people don't. She doesn't need to come here. She has somebody else who can turn the lights on and off. She's somebody else you can watch. Sometimes I watch for her. And she gives me a little extra ideal. That's how it's supposed to work. I understand that. I have to watch out for people who take advantage of the situation. She can make it happen for me. She can renew my aims. She can help me with my life. That is why I like working with Ruth. She she cares for me. She has dreams for me. She has plans for me. I have plans for myself. That's why they work so well together. This is going to be something special."

"You need to understand that this place is a gold mine. And the gold is the sun. The sun shines all the time; you just have to find a way to harvest this energy. It's not that difficult. You can collect the solar energy. Every house can collect energy. It's more than enough for the use here. Everyone can recognize that. This could be the future. Big problem is there's not enough water. That's not going to change. So this investment is only going to last for a while. After that, the investment is going to start to lose value. The diminishing returns will influence the overall plan. It's all part of the balance. You need to make it while you can. For now, you can work in a favorable way. You can find a place. Your heart out. After this, things are going to get more difficult. It's going to become more competitive. People are going to be at each other's throats. You just have to deal with that. It's all part of the overall development plan. There are people away out there, and they already have it working for them."

"There's a lot of money. They already have a lot of money. And they're going to get more. There's so many people here who die don't have anything going their way. Would you go out there, just be on the mountain, and they're all living there. They have the money. They're ready for what's coming next. That's how it's going to work. You can't let the future happen. You need to create the future. I'm sure that's why you're here. You can feel the same way that I can. You have to sacrifice. You have to give yourself to the experience. You lose a little bit of the body, but you gain a place in the show. Most people who make it way to work for themselves know some thing about this equation. They know what it is to stay on top. They're not going to get burned up in the process. Then there the others were exposed to it all. They don't have a clue. They never will. And they act as if it's up to us everything in place. For the planners. We're the producers. We're the innovative ones. They're not like us. They're the users. And they'll bring us down if they have to. That's how things work. You got to understand the law of diminishing returns. So you make what you can, you get out while you can. You find some other way to make it happen. You see that the sun is always shining, and this reminds you of the fundamental equation. You can make money here. You need to believe in yourself. You need to trace the flow of the sun. There's no two ways about it. You either see it or you don't. You move along with the current, or the current carries you away. I'm sure that all makes sense for you. I know that you're saying not saying much. I'm assuming that you agree with me. I can't see in the other way. I'm telling you how it is. I'm not trying to offer a rose colored picture. That's what people who live here understand. That's why we don't appreciate people who don't except these rules. It's all meant to be this way. You can't see your faith differently. That's what you need to figure out. That's what's really going on. That's what's going on around here."

“That’s what’s going around and around all of us. We can feel electricity in our bodies. If we use it, we need to make a war. There’s no other way to feel it. We are here to be winners. We aren’t here just to watch. That’s how it works in the desert. Eat or you get eaten. I can’t pretend that it’s any other way you’re hungry, and you do what’s needed to survive. Are you starve. There’s going to be no alternative. That’s what keeps you in the game. Keeps eating. Anything else is a delusion. A lot of people here yet overtaken by these mirages. It shouldn’t be that way. Life shouldn’t go like that. That’s why I’m here to tell you you can take this as a warning. We’ve all been warned. That’s why we work hard. That’s why we understand one thing. That’s the only thing that’s important. Everything else is secondary. Everything else is imagination. Imagination needs to be disciplined. Needs to result in positive outcomes. You can’t see any other way. If you’re not making it. You’re not making anything. That’s all part of the wonder. That’s all part of the traction. I’m not going to pretend. We don’t take prisoners here. It’s that simple. If you want something else, you can go back to where you came from. We’re open for business. If you mean business, hang around. I think most people understand that these days you can’t just act like a dog howling at the moon. It’s not going to get you anywhere. Food isn’t going to fall from heaven. You got to have guts. I have a guts.”

“That’s why I survive. That’s how I stay home. I don’t want to think that I’m ruthless. I don’t know what I’m doing. Anyone else who understands the big picture can see that I tuned in to some thing important than understanding exist all over. That’s what keeps the rodents down. We’re all hungry. They may sound a little gruesome. It’s how it is. This is a frontier attitude. And the frontier is always open for those who want to take it. Are you willing to make moves for your future. I know we’re just talking. And it may not seem all that. But I’m interested. What are you about it? Are you in the game. What are you willing to do for a victory? I can’t sit around. Fundamentally, this is about success. Success is there for all of us. That’s the big change in the world now. It seems as if everyone has been clued in. There are a few people who might try to ignore the signs. It’s laid out so clearly. None of this could be any clearer. That’s how it works. That’s what gets it going.”

“Our eyes sparkle opportunity. Maybe, it won’t work out. But if you don’t do something about it, I never will. Maybe, that’s everybody’s fear. I’ll motivated by that fear. You need to take that step. You need to realize that you’re part of it. You can make it a girl. You’re there to make her go. You’re turned on. The power is resonating with you. You didn’t get this far if you were going to just watch. You know that is part of a big game. And you’re ready to play. You go places where you’ve never gone before. Maybe you lose things here and there. That doesn’t stop you. You keep on. You find these spaces that you can exploit for your own advantage.”

“Realistically, how this world works. That’s why we need to protect ourselves. We can’t let other people invade the space we’ve created for selves. There’s a ton all this makes sense. And there’s a time when all of this is going to go by the wayside need to understand us matter of understanding the future. You can’t get too far up in the air. Do you know what happens here. You know what happens to everyone. It’s scientific. You need to understand the science. That’s why the body has so much overall show. No one is just watching. You’re eating, are you getting eaten up. I love this opportunity. We can sit around and talk. We can explore possibilities. Just the beginning of something bad. I’m letting you in on it. I’m providing a vantage to you. And this is going to be wonderful every little space something. There’s a place where you park your truck.

Parking your life. The lights are flashing. Your life is flashing. It's all flashing before you. And you need to realize what's possible. You are among infinite possibilities. Realistically, you are the biggest possibility. At every stage, you need to defend what you have. I need to advance your dream. Can't let anyone get in the way. That's what pushes you are. You take that advantage, and you push it again and again. It's the only thing that matters. Is there anything that gives you clarity. So you make it real. And make it real because it's the only thing worth making. And there's others just like you."

"There's other fools who are willing to risk everything to make that gold bubble. To tap into this molten reality. To engage all the elements as they present them selves. He on this together. Do you get this? Do you realize the commitment? Do you know why we're doing this. You can say we're doing it for you but you have to say I'm doing it for me. That is part of your growth. That is part of staking a claim in the New World. Some people think that they can take it all away. They feel as if they're not part of this. But I think about it at night some nights I take a long time to renew this commitment. And I don't want to interfere with my daytime activities. That's all part of my success. That's why I'm able to work it out. There's a few of us who truly get it. We'll see what the barriers are to our success. We don't let them stop us. We see a path forward, and we take it. All along, we've been taking it. Make it amount for some of we hear that clarion call and we take immediate action. That's why we are in the game. That's why we can find success. That's why we won't be distracted. The noise, the clamor, none of that matters. We're here to make things happen we're not simply observers. That probably makes you frightened. Some people feel they can just relax. And they don't really need to remain vigilant for what is to come. You need to understand your direction. You need to recognize how you're playing a part. And you need to engage all your resources."

"There's no other way to see it. There's no other way that you would want to see it. That's what gives you your strength. You've been hanging on in the hopes that the reward be evident. Here it is. You can see the drain. But you can also see the benefits. You can make them work for you in the present. That is how the show works. You weren't invited in be a spectator. The spectators are in assisted-living. They're watching television sets. Someone fills their drinks. They taste the future."

"And I hope that can last a little longer. The rest of us can't see it that way. We don't want to see it that way. We understand the movement of chance. I understand the rule of time. That is why we were all engaged. We were all part of something wonderful. I could call this a conspiracy to steal the sun. In itself, that seems disturbing. I wonder if it was even possible. If you drained all the sun for power, that would mean there was less energy for the rest of the world. What is this method that was described really that efficient.? Would it lead to some kind of solution? Or was missing? I can't do this to you. I can't do this for you. There's no boundaries. I want some thing. It's there. As for the taking. I see it. I get it. I want it. I need it. What a difference it can make. Versus going? Or is this going again? Again and again. Do you need me for this? Do I need you for this?"

"You say you're going to do this. It's never going to happen. It's never going to happen for me. It's never going to happen for you. To make these claims. It seemed offer us what we need. He can't get this done. He can't get anything done. People are bothering you. They're talking about the sun. Taking energy from the sun. And they're taking all your energy. You only have a limited amount to give. We have only a limited amount to take. So I was her taking so much more. So you're going to device in equation to make it all right. You can advise a way of life to make it all right. Someone's going to wake up in the morning and make it all right. It's been made all right. Any of that work? Does any of that ever work? Does anyone understand? What would it mean to understand? I give you the money. I give you it on A card. I'll give you total access. What do you do with it? What can you do with it? We can even do with it. We're just going to go? You need to make something out of this. You need to do something with this. I want to eat, but I wanted to be in a little more than that. What would that mean? What does this mean? I think I've got it now. I count forward, then I count backwards. You know what this is about. You need to make things clear. Now this all makes sense. You were this. I wear that. Please take this. I want you to give me something. We can all be friends. We can't be friends. There's a rift here. It's because of the sun. Run from us. It's not just something I can stay here like this. On set. Someone comes in. Someone comes out. Someone looks outside."

"Doing outside? You keep pushing on. This is going to make sense eventually. You keep pushing on. Can you tell me what I need to know? Can you help me with the process? I'm going to ask you these things? If there's something that you need to tell me? Now is the time. To help me with this? I need to perform it. I need to become it. It needs to be becoming. This is so bad. Looking for resolution. I'm not looking for a dance. I'm not looking for an explanation. There's two ways that you can go. You can either go out, or you can go wide. Anything to do with you? I'm trying to hold on. I'm trying to focus. There was something I needed to know. Put on the wedding garments. And you said it was time for the wedding. The wedding needed? Is there a reason? Who is protecting the flock? That is the real question. Do you have a flock. If someone needs to protect the floor. It's not a versus B. It's like you're never going to get it I feel like a little. Makes sense going to end up going the wrong way. An invitation to take it. I think those for you. This invitations for you. This is all for you. One person seems really concerned. Are you?"

"This is for the really concerned person. Because in the morning, concerns will be realized by a better plan. This is all going for a better plan. Are you prepared for this plan. Have you eaten enough? Have you tasted enough? Does it matter? How does it matter? What do I have to do to make it matter? This is next to impossible. You did something wrong. You did something really wrong. Do you have any idea what you did? It was going to happen eventually. Happened."

"He pretended that it didn't happen. I sent a police report. At least know all about this. There's a place where you going to go. This is called fraud. Do you want to happens to people get caught for insurance fraud? All about this. Describe someone who got caught pretending to be someone that he was not. It was about summer and who got caught pretending that he was some thing that he was not. Thank you for taking her for the night. Thank you for letting me walk away. This is called insurance fraud. You should be able to walk away. You're going to have to deal with this. There's a contract. Have you read the contract? Are you faithful to the contract? Do you even have the resources to participate in this sort of contract. You signed this. Do you know what that means? Do you want means to assign this? For one moment, someone was offering me everything that I could've needed."

"What if it is with someone else. What if I was the over determined one? The sun is over determined. You can use a little, and there's so much left. We are so small in comparison. We can use it all. And there's more coming. Do you know how that works? We've always wondered how we can make it work. How can we make it work like the sun? And we try it. And you know how it ends up. We end up burning up like the sun. We end up burning up in the sun. We get too close to the sun. And the stories before. We have insurance to protect us against such a eventualities. We're not using it. I thought about this also. I thought about the problems. I thought about the intersections. That's why I'm talking to you about this. I'm trying to explain some thing. Everybody understands this. Everyone feels busy. I got what I needed. I had an offer. I got an eventual offer. I got a commitment. It wasn't from the person that I wanted. And nothing to do with anything that I wanted. But I got a commitment."

"I'm going to need to ask you a question. I had money. I don't have money now. What happened to it? What happened to this investment. Who is involved. Her noises. I hear noises it's the animal. The animal do it. Is the animal inside of me. We have two things one is an animal. When is the sun. Uber and some more energy. At this point, it's the sun. But it's a greedy animal. You can hear a growling. It's a growling. What do you want? What do you need? What are you going to get? Every dog. That angry dog is going to want to interfere with activities. Activities. Three in the morning. But I walked by your house, and I saw that there was fire. I didn't want your house to burn off. And I wake up."

"I wonder how he got in my room. These are things that interfere with my life. If I could change it I could try to change my world. I'm getting caught in the same thing over and over again. It's a real estate firm. It's a pizza parlor. They do tacos. I want something with chicken in it. I want something that's tasty. I want some thing that's going to last me a lifetime. I want to wake up in the middle of the night, and understand things and no one else understands. This device can produce more power than one thousand Suns. Do you understand what that means? There's somewhere that they're telling all of us. What we should think. Is that how you want to think? Does that affect you? Does it make you excited? Is this part of your show? I can't take any more of this?. I have no idea idea what happened here. You had this plan for energy. And you need so much more energy now and you'll have in the future. I'm shaking. I'm shaking in my boots. I reach a point that I see what I want. I reach a point that I take what I want. I go everywhere. I don't know where. You don't understand what I'm thinking about it.

"You've just told me that you're on the million year plan, and I've met people here who are also in the million year plan. Is this going to work for any of them? It's going to work for me? None of this is exclusive. Just get what you need. Just turn yourself on. Just turn yourself off. Just make something happen. Go for it. Stop with it. I can't let it bother me. I can't let it affect me. I'm going here for the party. I'm arriving late. I'm arriving early. We all arrive together. What difference does it make. Give me what I need. I'll give you my heart. I'll give you my phone number. I'm just learning how to do these things. The world is just learning how to do these things. I wish I could explain this to other people. I want to be able to explain the world. I want to be able to explain the fabric of life. People here who do these things. They make money work for them. They make a life work for them. They make themselves work themselves. You showed me too much. I saw something I didn't want to see. I saw all the cycles of humanity. I'll roll it up until one. I'll roll up into one person. Can I eat the cereal? Can I eat the granola bar? I ate all the oatmeal. I ate all the cupcakes. Is that going to upset the WORLD ORDER?"

“What are the rules Sarah? What does it matter? I may have had a good idea. But it ended up in the wrong way. We’re playing hopscotch. We’re losing her shit. There’s the two bunnies. I see you guys every day. You’re eating the plants. You’re making everything work right. Fortunately, there’s not some wolf trying to eat the two bunnies. But that’s the vision that I’ve been given. I’ve been barely been here very long, and I’m learning the story about a wolf who prays on to bunnies. Somebody needs to get the wolf out of here. But the wolf has its imperatives; it says beware of war it says beware of surveillance. We’re all being watched here. This is going to develop into some thing else. I was on the verge of something. I was about to see some thing. Do you understand what this is about? It’s Karim and your story. It’s Karim in my story. This is someone else’s story. Do you even see what’s going on here are you in for a challenge? You don’t really see any of this Studio? You’ve been spending all this time trying to give yourself some humanity. Just see how all of this is connected? It’s not like a some fantastic thing. It’s not as if you’re part of some fantastic thing. This is not going to seem fantastic after all. You’re going to go back-and-forth not realizing that you were at the right place in the beginning. How do you find this place? How do you find out on a map? How do you find it is part of your life? Let’s be honest,; I was never like this. You were never like this. I’m not going to pretend. Ten years down the line, it is not going to change. We are all trying to do the same thing with me. I don’t care. I don’t care. I don’t care. The words are going to vindicated me. I win. I win. I win. I win. I win. I win. I win. You need to understand some things before you continue on with your shit. And that’s what I don’t understand. You thought that you were killing the monster. It didn’t work that way. You gave a gift. You got turned on. You got turned off. I’m here to protect you. You’re like my sister. I’m here to protect you from this shit. I’m here to protect you from the wolf. I’m here to protect you from the two bunnies. The bunnies are going to become a role model. Everything’s a role model. Where is this going? Nothing is exclusive. In the end of this is going to matter. Just show up. I have no idea how I’m doing this. You don’t really get it either do you. This is the source of our dismay.”

“This is the reason we’ve been exiled. I’m so close. I know where this is headed. Just headed for dinner. I can smell the food. I didn’t think that a meal came with the room. I thought that you were opening your place today. How can all these extras get paid? Everyone’s getting paid to do nothing. Who’s paying for this? You’re all paying with your time. You’re giving your time to some thing, and it’s not going to come back to you. It’s going to come back to haunt you. It’s going to come back to hurt you. It’s going to hop on board. It’s going to shake you up. It’s going to open you up. It’s going to show you things she never saw before. That’s why you came here. This is the music I want you to hear. I’ve heard it many many times. I love the drums. I love the bass. I love the anger. I would love what’s going on behind the walls. He takes up a lot of space. He thinks he can do more than he does. CZ take him out. He’s behind a fence. He’s behind a wall. He’s too obvious. All of this is too obvious. I made another mistake. We can go away from this. We can let it go. We can pretend that it never happened but it happened. We happened. We’re going to happen again and again. It’s going to hurt us. It’s not going to help us. It’s going to be the end. It’s going to be the beginning. We start. We end.”

“We eat everything. We let it all go. We come back to the beginning. We cleaned it all out. None of it matters. It's not going to help either of us. We're not going to feel any better after it's over. That's only going to make us feel worse. It's not going to fill us up. It's not going to break us down. We're going to have our misgivings. We're going to wonder what happened. And he's going to end up hurting us in strange ways. That's what happens. You are who you are. I think you're somewhere else. I think you were somebody else. But you're back to the same thing over and over again. You are who you are. You're faster than you are. You're slower than you are. No one can catch up to you. It's not going to hurt. I love it. You're going to hate it. I don't work that way. Each gesture is supposed to mean something. None of this means anything. Words mean things. Actions mean things. Gestures mean things. What if there's any of this about?"

"You came here to learn about this. We're going to teach you. There's a lot more to find out. You came here for a purpose, and there's a lot more to find out. You just give into what you feel. You need to find a way to act it out. Angry. You scream at people. You go over the edge. Do you think that makes a difference. This only justifies your stupidity. What do you have to do to make it end? You're not even in the position this happened. Neither of us yes. I could use a little help here I could use a little direction. I need you to guide me. Everything comes back to the same thing."

"You were working for a solar company. Now you're working for StarTalk. Or maybe, you're working in a restaurant. You're serving people who don't care about what they eat. You're making yourself sick. You're doing really ridiculous things. You're becoming part of some thing that you shouldn't be a con be a part of. I need to explain this to you. I need to explain where this got started. It's a little bit of a rumor. It's a little bit of a calculation. These were people who helped me to become myself. There's so much to talk about just getting to this point. I'm going to go so much further. I can't contain all of this. I can't explain all of this. We're going to sit and watch this shit. I don't have the patience. It's not going anywhere. None of this matters. None of this is ever going to matter. There's going to come a point where we say no more. There's going to come a point when we do know more. There's going to become a point where we think that we know what's going on. Do we know what's going on?"

"This is funny. This is called a total collapse of the economic system. We've been talking about this before. Other people have discussed this. As a real event. It starts with a little garlic. Then you add some oil. You make a secret sauce. You make a secret life.. You make a pact with the devil. The devil takes everything that you have. And you're left with a few things. You hear noises. The noises are getting closer. The end is getting closer. This is the end of the world. We were taking all the energy from the sun, and I'll be nothing left. Hold it in your hand. What are you going to do with it. You're going to make money with it. You're going to laugh about it."

"You're sitting in business school, and they're all laughing at you. We need to do some thing to shake them out. They really are afraid. They're afraid of what's coming. They're afraid of what's coming and going. There's nothing progressive about this. There's everything regressive about this. We want to make sure that everything balances. You say one thing, and you say something else. You can't say the wrong thing. What do I really want?"

"I want you to sit down and write the whole story from the beginning. I want a confession. I don't want you to explain why you did some thing because someone else did something to you. I know that's part of the story. I want to get to the point where you realized that you could mess other people up. Why are you responsible? What is the basis for your accountability? This is too much to think about. I'm eating up all this guilt. I'm eating all the skills. I didn't know it could be so tasty. At this point, I can't even bother by any of this. And one way or another he needs to be stopped. And when we are another, he will be stopped. I don't want to hear about this. I don't want to hear about any of these people that you've been talking about. They're all on my enemies list."

"I get rid of them one by one. I'm not worried about the people who were talking about me. They were all talking about me. So didn't make any difference. I'm worried about the people who haven't been talking about me. I've been talking about them. I've been trying to stop what they do. I am what they do. I am the sun. No one can get into my head like that. I do not have a head. I am pure energy. I'm pure power. I do not need mine. I just radiate pure power. I get a little ways away from that energy and I become when I am. I develop a structure. I develop a more complex structure. But that is the beginning. That is the essence. That is the universe bubbling up. That is a pure sun. The energy of one thousand suns. How can you harness this?"

"There's a point in the universe where you can pull it all apart. Are your hands strong enough? Are your wheels strong enough? Are you going to do this? Can I do it with you? Where are we going? Don't let him bother you question. He bothers me all the time. He's become part of my being. Then there's this connection we're nothing holds. Nothing matters. I don't have the time to think about this. I'm dealing with simpler things. If I worried about it, I destroy half the universe. Then there's this other half. And everything makes sense. Then everything one makes sense. And everyone makes sense together. Think about all these things that you've been thinking about. And you think about them again and again. Then you create a system with them. Then you take that system and you back-and-forth. You break it apart. You make something more of it. You see what makes it go. You do a little more experimentation. It all falls into place. There's a wind that moves everything. That's the power. The wind is moved by heat. But this is another form of heat. This is beyond matter. This is beyond energy. This is a pure conception. You grasp this means."

"How can you reach this point from your physical understanding. There's a brilliance to this conception. Are you willing to follow it through? The successive crossings. The parity. How does it all makes sense. You had an opportunity for it all to make sense. He went in this other direction. Now you want me to go in that direction. It's not going to happen. You could even make it happen if you wanted to. I'm looking at the moon. I'm pretending that it has all that energy. This could be another expression of the same thing this is a representation of the same thing. That's why I look at it this way. That's why other people look at it in the same way. That's why we're all involved. That's why we all care. Why it all matters. Ever."

"That's all that matters forever. That's all that matters at all. I don't want to do this. I don't want to get involved. I don't I don't want to become come back early just to be a part of this. And beyond all this. I can't even think about this. I'm going to arrive on time. It's going to make me sick. It's going to make me better. I don't want to be better. Will it be better. Will it help me to be better? How does that happen? How do I get out of here? I need to arrive early. I need to do I need to get it done. Instantly. Makes no sense to anyone. How does that work. Don't let it hurt me."

"There's this one guy, and he makes it all happen. Do you need some have all the time in the world to keep it going. Then there's this other guy. And he delivers to the guy who makes it all go. We needed this delivery service. We need all of this to matter in order for any of this to matter to understand how that works."

"I needed to think about what was happening today. I felt as if I had come into contact with this weird cult. They were trying to get secret information about me. Are we staying at this one place temporarily. But they had all my information. Now, they were going to be able to track me. Process of a boy, we determine what happened in my life. How have I reached this point. I had left the security of my homebase, now is in the middle of nowhere. There were different rules out here. I wasn't sure how they were affecting me. I needed to maintain a cool head. I didn't want to give in. Want to surrender my focus. There is a lot riding on my decisions. In a sense, I felt more vulnerable."

"Up to this point, I have done everything to control the narrative. Now it seems to be slipping out of my grasp. Wasn't sure if I was going to find any allies here. I was more exposed than ever. And I could see the world falling down all around me. What was really going on. I had to sabotage my own success. I came here to put things back together again. I didn't know who I was. Are you used to calling me by my name? But I wasn't even sure if I could hold to that identification. This was the only thing they made any difference to me. I need to get back on course. I need to be careful. I couldn't say anything more to these people. I continue to listen. I would pretend that I was involved."

"My mind is somewhere else. My mind was riding the trails. I watched that shadow. The same shadow that followed me in New Orleans. That lasting experience and what was making everything a go? I was a losing. Did anyone here have any kind of moral compass? They pretended that they were acting according to a code. That code only seemed to reinforce their benefits. The rest of the society began to follow suit. I can sense that dogged attitude. Even worse. Everything was collapsing around me. Went back to my car. And I sat in the front seat. I need to be away from all this for a few minutes. I need to find it new reference points for my next steps. I looked around me. It was all so quiet at this time of night."

"Maybe they were a few wild cats who had escaped their owners. Everything else was tranquil. I can understand how people ended up this way. And it was being taken from me? I didn't want to give you. I didn't want to submit. I was going to struggle for what I had. And the battle of these negative influences and overcoming. I had a clear plan. I was sticking according to the plan. That's all that I could do. There's all this activity around me. Something was going on. Hear the helicopters overhead. They seem to be in control. But I need to rethink this model. Everything had got on board. But that didn't mean that society. There are so many factors working against me. I wanted to figure out what they were. I wanted to figure out how they were working. I wasn't going to move until I got a sign. And I was looking carefully that clue. It was going to come. "

"Everything was going to make sense. I was going to be able to use my skills. But this was a very different world. And I need to adjust. I need to find other people help me out with my program. I saw how he was burning through money. Sure, I had savings. But if I didn't find a place to stay, I would have to go back to Birmingham. That seem like the worst of my options. I thought about these issues I was hesitant I realize that everything was tied together. I couldn't fake any of us. That was the whole idea of their information system. They trapped all of us within

it. I needed to submit like everyone else. But I need to find greater independence. What was the source? Who could help me? How could I get in game. I was entering a crowded field. Everyone was fighting for a few scraps. How did that skill work? Lives were made and lives were destroyed a few minutes. I watched it all from the outside. I felt like a cheerleader. I wasn't making the game happen. I had this pretense that my opinions made a difference. Around people. It's made me a little frightened. Is. Oh my strength. Indeed, I was caught. I was doing a double take. It was almost as if I had sought out these people. Only confirmed my estimation. This was all part of the escapade. And over again. Supposed to do?"

"This seems like a very good question. Gives us a lot to think about. How many reactions created changes in our community? It also promise us to see our community differently. We find like-minded souls, removed by the same experiences. I feel close. Affinity with others. But there are other influences. And we adjust ourselves accordingly. How do you want to be seen? How do you want others to see us? That influence itself could be the basis for real change. How can that happen? Indeed, that is an interesting question. In a sense, media strong motivation to begin with. But that motivation can develop over time. I need to visualize, can feel that she is being poured into a web. Try as she may, she has difficulty escaping. Again, this becomes more motivation for this presentation. What's going on here?"

"Don't worry. AI is coming. There won't be any more clerks. There won't even be a store. You won't event have to order food. Your daily rations will be delivered to you. And you will be fed by a robot. And the robot will make sure how much you eat. Maybe, your food intake will be reduced. You are being prepared for your eventual transformation."

"They say this all the time. We can stop it."

"Wait until next week."

"They marvel. They have such a limited degree of self-reflection. Their computer spits out information about their lives. And they think that is it fucking brilliant."

"You have the occupation part down. You need to get out of your house."

"What is that about?"

"There is a big world out there."

"Out there."

"This is the beginning of automation. We are living in these cubicles."

"In some cities that is the rage. Eat, sleep, fuck, work."

"Fuck work, and let me sleep."

"You don't work; you don't eat."

"I will eat your food."

"I only have a ration."

"You have a half of one now. I ate your cantaloupe."

"I have loads of mushrooms."

"We are very happy here. You need to understand that."

"We are very, very different."

"How do you do that?"

"I stand on my head."

"I really am making changes."

"How do I get out of this place?"

"You need to realize that you are in this place first."

“That sounds brilliant.”
