

THE GOOD SPY

“Let’s start small. You hear a knock at the door. It’s me. What do we do with the successes and failures of the past. What do we do with our lives? Who is running the court? What is the law? How did love gets so out of control? Will you escape from your handlers? Where does this go? Are you ready to start? I’m working with you. I’m walking all the way home. We pay our money. We get results. How can we make this better? What’s going on in the bedroom? What’s going on in the board room? What makes us bored? What makes us happy? You’re going to have to give it your all. You work for the intelligence services. You betray your values. What are you get in place? How much does it cost? What’s the emotional price? What are you willing to pay? What are you afraid to pay? There are different ways to see this. There are different ways to find redemption. Have you gone too far? What’s the fantasy? I’m giving all my best love to you. That is a code. It’s a code for the intelligence services.”

“What is best love.? What is love? What is best? How do these descriptions represent a disposition of forces? Where do they get started? Who do they start with? Who do they involve? I heard noises in my head. Have they brainwashed me? Do they tell me what to do? What am I supposed to do? Should I be hungry? What is a physical thing? What is the basis of our attractions? What do the intelligence services have to do with this. It’s all about conditioning. You see ice cream, and you want ice cream. You go through a program. You stop wanting ice cream. Do you want sherbet? Do you want a salt lick? Do you want lasting love? Do you want to record your body and mind? Do you want some advice?”

“It’s time to go. It’s time to start. It’s time to figure this out. It’s night time; it’s the right time. This is a good time for confession. Your confession is related to a commitment to reveal what is actually going on in the world. This is going to be very difficult. You have been told what to believe. Why do you care? Why do you bother? You’re trying to match your feelings with the feelings of the world. We need a better understanding. Where is it supposed to go? Missy? Are you missing? Who is controlling your emotions? The organization has created a plan for you your emotions need to match this plan. You need to match emotions. You face these challenges. What is missing? Are you missing? What have they taken from you so that you can feel the way that you do. What have they given to you so you can feel the way that you do. I’m not all here. I will never be all here. I’m all around. I’m all around the world. To make any difference?”

“No one understands. No one seems to understand. That is how they work. Everybody knows a little bit. But no one knows it all. Nevertheless, this belief is inculcated, that this little segment is part of a deeper understanding. And it all makes sense together. I don’t make sense together. It’s all part of someone thing. It’s a universal. You’re only seeing part of the picture. But you’re made to believe that you’re seeing all of the picture. You were made to believe that you were all of the picture. That’s how the picture comes in focus. That’s how you come and it’s a focus. That’s how you were seen. You were seen as they want you to be seen. All your emotions. There’s only one goal in mind. You need to learn the method. You need to give yourself to the moment. You need to give all of yourself. This is about more than you. This is about everything. This is about your everything. Where is this going? Or the send up? How are you affected? They found the perfect balance. You have no idea what’s being done. You think that you’re controlling the show. They teach you come in performances. But you’re not commanding anything. You're only going along."

"Anyone understand. Do you want to understand all of it? You want to taste it. You don't want to be cynical. You have wider dreams. You have more insistent passions. Send me money. Send me laugh. Make me involved. Make me excited. Turn on the camera. Smile for the camera. Give your all. Send me your picture. What does your body tell you? What is your soul tell you? Or is any of this going? Why did they make it like this? Why are you made like this? They're good with their method. They're good at affecting you. They're good at keeping you in line. You like to stay in line. Do you like things simple? Do you understand accounting? You are the main account. You're on accounted for. That's how it works. They make you work this way. You find a place to hide. You find a place where they can hide you. Come on over. Stay a while. Love a while. Be here a while. Learn how to add this together. Learn how to make this race. That's what they want you to do. That's how they recruit you."

"They tell you things. They promise you things. And you go along. Seems like fun. Why not. Start working on this! Start making some thing of it! There's so many things that you can do. Turn the lights on. Turn the camera on. Turn your love on. Show what you've got. Shake what you've got. Do you want a system. They've got you on a timer. Do you want to be satisfied?"

"Satisfaction means going along with what they tell you to do. Like to be told. Do you like to stay in line? Do you like to play your part? You play the best part. No one bothers you. Everyone loves you. You're coming to a resolution. I can't get involved. That's awful. That's a little too much emotion for me. Your chance to control the emotion. You aretaught support the cause. That's all that makes a difference. That's all that ever makes a difference. They find you. They find out what it means. They find out what you mean. You play a part. And make the right noises. Everybody loves those noises. That's enough for all of you. That's how they create allegiance. You go along. You get along. You stay within. I have a theory about this so much noise. So little effort it's happening close to here it's happening with you. It's happening without you."

"There are people all around. They all like with their hearing. How long do I have to stay with this, I need words. I need new words. I'm afraid. There's someone watching me. They're going to find out what I have on them. They were going to make me a criminal I'm going to have to suffer. I want a little more soul. I want a little more life. I need to get out of here while I can. I see fireworks. I feel fireworks. I feel things exploding around me. I feel my life exploding around me. Where is this going? What does this have to do with me? How did everything get like this? Why does it hurt so much? Why doesn't it hurt? What are you doing to me? Is this how the organization works."

"I continues to provide my experience, and it makes me think that is part of everything that I do. Who am I working for? Where do I confess? What kind of details do you want? Do you want to know about specific operations. Do you want to know the location of our assets? Do you want to know about our overall strategy? How are you involved? How are we involved? How is anyone involved? What kind of differences in May? What do you want to do? Or just a stop? Or does this not stop? I don't want to be involved. I need to get involved. It is beyond me. They are making me come apart. They convict me."

"How does it work? Your best sins are the things that you forget. You continue to have a vague recollection. You remember the delights, but you barely know where they originate. On that basis, you struggle to discover your potential. You pretend that things could be better. But they always seem worse. Everything around you seems worse. Why does the world work that way? What are you protected? Or is anyone protecting? He's protecting you? It's going to take a while. This is the second time that you've done this. This is the second mistake. This is the second time you've given up your principles. This is the second time you've embraced a different set of principles. It's a different time. This is a separate time. You have no principles. What is this about? Do you understand what this is about? What did you do? Why do you make me this way? You pushed me. You pushed me off the bridge. Only one person is going to come out of this well. What are you getting for any of this? There was a moment that everything seem to make sense. Everything seem to make sense. None of these are very good Scripps. I'm having difficulty explaining this for you. I'm going to put this in very simple terms. He walked into a play. And you watch the characters interact with each other. And you learn the script. And you became part of the play."

"You're watching a play. And you're learning the script. And you become part of the play. Let's take that again. What are the things that you worry about? What is the organization saying to you?"

"I get married to somebody. And I spend my time having sexual fantasies about someone else. And I tell that other person. And my husband knows nothing about this. If he found out, it would be devastating for him. So I hide it from him. And he finds out. And it's devastating for him. What am I supposed to say? I'm a good girl. I don't have bad thoughts. Read about what's going on! This is going to take a while. I don't want to think about this. I don't want to think about this at all. There are places you can go. There are people who you can see. Your back where you want to be. I've been there before. We were the same place. One night that's hardly true. There's so much lost time. That's how it works there's so much loss time but your conscious in that time. You're totally conscious. And there's no more time. It works that simply. There's no ground plan. It just hits you in the head. It's all over. Your show is over. This marriage is over. I wish I could say something nice about this. I wish I could tell you if this was something exciting. We're all involved. We were all participating. We were all excited. But it wasn't that way at all. How did I get here? Who else is with me? How long has this been going on? This is not going to end well."

"What's your husband going to say? What are you going to say when he finds out that he's no longer the object of your affection? Are you going to fake it for him? Are you going to fake it for everybody? What's your problem? I felt that you could help me. I came a little too far. I got a little too close. I said things that I should've said. I involved others. How I should not of involved. What is any of this about? This seems to be some thing that it is not. We seem to be some thing that we are not. We are not. We are never what we seem to be. We share ourselves. This is disgusting. You're all on top of me. I can't even move. You're hurting me. I don't want to think about it this way. There's only one way to think about it. If it gets like this again, I am going to feel hurt. What's the problem what's the problem?"

"How are the intelligence services seeing this? You were given a family. This is all part of your programming. Do you want another family? We have one for you? We can give you a husband. We can give you a new wife. We can teach you how to play. What are you waiting for? Whatever want to go somewhere and wait for something that I'm never going to get? When am I going to get what I'm waiting for? That's a long time. And you're back for more. Every mark, every place of residence, how are you a visitor, every touch, every absurdity, all of this is what matters. Can you look for others who looks like you. They can understand better than you can. And you close it up. There's nothing you can do about it. If you think you can, that's absurd. You sit in place, and you stare into space. That's a form of punishment. That's a form of action."

"That's a form of reaction. That's a form of interaction. How does that all happen. Has any of this happened. How do you happen? This hurts more than you can know. This helps more than you can know. I like it like this. You take everything you're doing, and you completely reverse it. But it's just another version of the same thing. That's how they do it for you. They give you a new life. It's not that different from the old life. I could be hiding here. We could be hiding together. We get high the same things. No one will bother us. I can sit here and no one will bother me."

"I like it like that. I'm working on something important. I'm learning a skill. I'm getting better at some time. You can join in with me. This is where we make this happen. We make it happen in the sun. We make it happen when it's very hot. We make it happen when it's very cold. It doesn't affect us. It doesn't affect any of us. You can run as fast as you can. You can smile. Who are you working with? Who is working with you? Who shares what you have? Where does this lead? What happens after it's all done? You could lead me pretty well anywhere. How long will that last? How long will the love last? That's how the organization works. It distributes things that are important for the organization. There comes a point that you need to be concerned about these things. I shouldn't be worrying about this. You should have this down for me. I'm getting worried."

"Or in totally different worlds. Quit playing with me. We had a chance. What kind of steps have you taken? What kind of steps have I taken? I should get involved. I need some working parts. I need some things that make this ago. I need your help. I need your help right now. We're closer than we know. We have three more steps. That's how the intelligence services work. They make you think that they know things that they don't. You fill in. It's all about filling in the picture. This is how it goes these days. You add to the picture. You make it more vibrant. You make it more exciting. I'll go anywhere that you take me. How do you want to thing that you wanted me to do. If that's going to matter for me."

"I'm going to have to get ready to do this again. I'm going to have to make it better. I'm going to care about this. I'm not going to care about this. I know things. I know how to do things. At this point I don't want to think about it. At this point, I'm going to make myself sad. The organization makes me sad. That's how we work together. We share our melancholy, and we act it out on other countries where they ask us why we did it, we just tell them that we have a lot of trauma. We don't even know what we're doing. We're sorry. We're not sure we're sorry about it, but that's what we do all the time. We can't even remember that. When we need to remember everything. Remember everything the agency tells us. That's how they tell us things. They tell us so that we will remember. This is part of the operation. This is all part of the organization. The organization works by focusing our efforts. That only makes it better. That makes us better. We're better people. We're better when we do.?"

"This amazing part, and it's ordinary part. I don't know how to balance these two. I don't know how to balance myself. I've known you for a while. I need to share some thing. The organization is not in your interest. Love is not in your interest. We are not in your interest. I can't do anything to help you. We can't do anything to help you. We hurt more than you know. You hurt more than we know. You hurt all the time you make me hurt. I don't think that you understand. I don't think that you know what's happening. This stuff is hurtful. The stuff is not good for people. This stuff makes me cry. I need to get it done now. I need to clean it all out. I'm almost there. I only have one thing to do on. This is how it works out. I need to figure out the influences on my behavior. I need to accentuate those things. I need to share my love. There are alternatives. There's different ways to live. There's different ways to die."

"I need to eat. I need a thing. I need to do what I can. I need to taste. Just have a little taste. It's all skin matter. Where does it go from there. The organization has us hooked. They might as well give us pills so that we act in a certain way that is why I are so committed. We're going in different places. We're doing different things. We're doing different things to ourselves. There's a moment that we want to hold on. We want to remember everything there is to remember. From that point on, there's something missing. There's something missing in our source. There's something missing in our hearts. There's something missing in our minds. Do you have what I need? Can you give me what I really need? It's been a while this is way beyond oblivion. This is way up on beyond memory."

"No one should remember this at all. Especially you. You shouldn't remember any of this I need to forget all of this. This is a wonderful place; this was a wonderful place; how have all of you been abandoned here, been abandoned here. I just want to taste. I just want to know. I just want a little taste. I want a little bit. I want half. I want all that's left. You're not going to get away with this. They going to punish you. They could do this in other ways. They see it in one way. They're not about subduing you. They're about destroying you."

"So they're going to get you to make the move. You're going to destroy yourself. And they're going to say that it's your fault. But it's been moving in that direction. It happens over and over again. Moves like that again and again. And he keeps thinking that it's going to be different. But none of it's different. None of it's better than it was before you're going in the same place again and again why does it work this way? Why does it even work this way? That's how the system is built. That's how the organization is built. It's built to make you destroy yourself."

"That's how it functions. It's works the same way again and again. You destroy yourself again and again. This is my fault. It's my fault again and again. What are you going to say when it's all revealed? Does anyone have a real wife? Does anyone want to have a real wife? This is the impossible. How does it happen like that? Have you been working on some thing better. Are you making yourself better? Are you working on yourself. What's missing? What are you missing? Why are you missing it? It shouldn't be like that. You shouldn't be like that. You shouldn't let anyone interfere with you. What are you really afraid of? Who are you really afraid of? Where is the fear start and end? Not here. We need to go one step further. Your organization asks you to go one step further. After you make that step, you can probably be blamed for everything that you do. You can be blamed for everything that you do."

"It's your fault. It's always your fault. That's the only thing that matters. It's your fault. I have no idea where you are I am not going to bother you the anger is por favor it's a living weapon. This is a thing that's meant to scare people away. But it ends up making you afraid of yourself. How does this start, and how does it end? You're trying to confess. You did something wrong. He left some thing out. He put some thing in. He made something happen. He made everyone happen. You got worried. You were really afraid. This is not good for you. How are you going to respond to this what are you protecting? What are you afraid of? This is a different kind of wildness. It's a different kind of fear. Not going to make it back. No one's going to make it out of here."

"I think you can make this work. You do your part. And I do my part. I think that'll be just enough. I think we can get the show going. You do your part, and I do mine. Then I close it up. We close at all the work. It makes you think that you're closer than you are. You're not that close. No one's that close. Everyone's far away. The organization works with that impression. They keep showing you training videos. They make you think that you have a proximity that you don't have. You're close to none of this. This has nothing to do with anyone. You're not going to get anything from anyone. Get on on my way. Get out of my face. Care of my life. Do not interfere. Do not try to interfere. You're not part of this. I'm not part of this."

None of us are part of us. How did it progress to this point. Or is this headed? Or is any of the scoring? I can't stop. I'm on a mission. I'm on a confession. The organization is called neon. They want to know everything that I've done. I made a lot of mistakes. I have files on all of them. I can bring them all down. They better not threaten me. I won't take much. Or they going to walk your way. How long are they going to keep you there. This is going to take longer than I know. This is a lot to worry about."

"I can't think about this much longer. The organization will find a place to put me. They're going to shut me up for good. Therefore, I better start singing now. Every time I get to this place, I think about all our failures. Everything is being taken away from us. All that pretense that is in there. I keep expecting that something will be there. I'm giving too much of myself to all of this. I'm going to much of myself to some thing that shouldn't be there at all. You have no idea what the difference is. You have no idea where I've been. I don't want to play candy anymore. Let me out of here. Why did you put me here? I know too much already. I can't even move."

"Get out of here clown. I got rid of two clowns. I got rid of them in different ways. I didn't mean for it to be like that."

"We're just at the beginning of the struggle. We're changing things as they go along. We're bothered. She's weighing on me. I love this. This hurts me. I can't think about this. You have no idea what's happened to me. Things have changed. Are used to take much longer. It took us longer to become strong. Now we're strong in and out of ourselves. I think that's some kind of magic bullet."

"I don't really want it to be that way. I don't consider that help. I'll figure it out for myself. More than ever, I feel weary. I can't figure all of this out. I need to get back. I need to figure it all out. This is supposed to be wonderful. This is supposed to make you saying. I'm almost there. You asked for an answer, and I gave you one. You have to say stay true to your word. But there are no words here. Everything gets exchanged. Everything gets interchange. Everything gets replaced. You're going to station likes it that way. You don't see that you're messing with the lives of people. The only people that you care. About her once, you become the pretext for further operations. You're saving people who can't be saved and loving people who can't be loved. But you don't care about it. All that matters to you is process."

"You get rewarded for process. There are no results. You talk about outcomes. All of the metrics serve your interests. Why does that excite you? Why does any of that matter? Where is any of that going? Why does it hurt more than it hurts? I need to take some time to think about this. We need to map this out in detail. How cheap is it? How expensive is it? How much time do I have to give of myself?"

"This is making me sick. None of this makes any sense. I don't understand; none of this makes any sense. Where does this go? Or do you know? Am I going with you? Are you stopping me? I don't believe any of this. I can't get involved. This is not my show. It will never be my show. Don't try to make me part of it. Don't bring me into the operations. I want some honesty. I would love some honesty. I need this to work. Who can make this happen? Does the organization want this to happen? Does your organization know what's happening? Is any of this going to work. If some of this going to work, are we going to get thrown off? Are we going to lose our focus? Are you kidding? Is it some kind of joke? Honestly, this is some kind of a joke? What are you preparing us for?"

"This actor is worse than the last. I'm thinking too much about this. I'm thinking too much about you. Thinking too much about the organization. The organization doesn't think about anyone but itself. What is the organization? We are the organization. We think about everything. We care about everything. We sacrifice ourselves for this. This is the apex. This is the total transformation of the self. This is the casualty of the intellect. Let me out! Let us all out!"

"It's all done. That's all that I want. This is all that I'll take. I need to stop here. It's all great until I have to deal with the every day reality. What does that mean?"

"Can we even have a serious examination of your involvement in the intelligence services? Is this part of your history it's never going to be possible to fully examine the nature of your relationship? At what point can you say that these actions are yours and yours alone? You have attempted to deflect your accountability due to lack of experience. At what point of you actually made decisions on your own? There's no doubt that forms of mind control have been applied against you; nevertheless, you have been involved in doing the same things to others. Your overall perspective is based upon these kinds of beliefs; it is important that you do not try to deflect your responsibility."

"Poetic language can be viewed as a code that you use to advance your perspective. This code protects your core beliefs. These beliefs are then translated into the very principles that advance intelligence agencies. Your an idea of security in the home becomes the basis for advancing such principles internationally. You pretend that this is not your concern. You're trying to be the good girl. Nevertheless, he's kind of expansionary policies create enmity around the world. Your job is to counteract his feelings. Do not address the potential inequity that is caused by these actions. Instead, you tolerate these kinds of policies. Your poetry becomes more and more immersed in this thinking. "

"You attracted. There was a moment when you need to make the move. And you did not. You're more trapped in there. Dissipation becomes more critical. If you were going to make a contribution to change, then you need to take those actions. This can result in an actual transformation of the social circumstances. We cannot advocate for something that is not supported by your actions.”

“At what point, do you accept responsibility for the organizations that you were a part of. You can simply cherry pick from their policies to advance your own perspective. All these policies are part of a single initiative. Even if he only select some of these, their eventual application require this kind of implementation. Forms of social control are part and parcel of everything these groups do. You can’t act any differently. You know that you’re not going to change any of this.”

“You would have committed to this path under the impression that it would reward you, but it never gave you the desired outcome. You were excluded from a promised reward. Had you been denied? Or you maintained your allegiance to this way of life. It should’ve resulted in some kind of return. You were trying to make sense of some thing that no longer seemed reasonable. That didn’t stop you. You had given too much of yourself to this resolution it wasn’t going to be easy to pull back in fact; this was your challenge. They hardly made you see things in a different way. This was your lifestyle. You had become accustomed to the promise. If it wasn’t forthcoming, you were still going to defend it. Now, see that it is more difficult than ever why were you so unique? What was your fear?”

“Why couldn’t you work with your way around the challenges? It was almost as if you were told that it was going to be different here so you invested so much of yourself. The organization depended upon people, like you, who were willing to sacrifice. They would give everything to be a part of the team. It was hardly clear what was the source of this commitment. Especially after you seemed to be getting nowhere. That diminished the struggle.”

“You had felt as if you had been chosen. This was your mission. You weren’t going to let go. And there were others who felt exactly the same as you did. All together, you were waging this battle. This made it even more difficult to recognize what was wrong with the whole picture. You were so used to making excuses. You were so used to rewriting history. That was all that you do. You knew how to go along. You knew how to accept things. And that’s what you did. You were in it for the long-haul. And you had lost your ability to escape.”

“It didn’t even make any sense. You had no idea what you were in for. You had no idea what you had expected. This was more than propaganda. You had a personal justification; it was almost as if they had assigned a family to you. They gave you values. They made you go along. Even when you thought that you were independent, you were espousing their point of view. That made it even more pathetic. You were locked out. You were overwhelmed. You were crushed. You were dominated. You seemed to love it all. You seem to want it all. He wanted nothing but this. This was the only blessing. This was the only logic this was how you saw the world. Where was it headed? What was the source of the tail wind?”

“You kept pushing. You continued in the grips of the same understanding. It really wasn’t that satisfying anymore. Moments that it seemed hideous. But he still found ways to rewrite the story. You still find found ways to accommodate yourself; what was going on? That made it all the more surprising. You claimed that you were there for the long-haul. It only seem to rocky road. There’s no other way to see this. You were caught. You felt unstable. Couldn’t let go. Going to put it all together. Do you want to give it a greater meaning. Otherwise, no clarity. It was simply devotion. You were a good scout. You were main part of the game, and that was your source of liberation. Supposedly, that was your source of greatness.”

“You could look around, and everyone seemed happy. Everyone seems satisfied. Everyone was on the cusp of some greater revelation. It would all come to nothing. With all crumbled before your eyes. Ultimately, you were unable to communicate this to anyone else. Everyone believed that she was sharing the same understanding. But everyone was equally in the dark. Everyone was lost with this sensation. That was the only way that it could be understood that seemed like it was all that mattered. And you were down for the count. You weren’t going to let go. Even as it became more difficult, you held this is part of your plan. You thought that you were treasured. You truly believe that you were unique. It was no longer about sacrifice. You felt as if you were a leader. Then made you think that you were doing impossible. The illusion was deep. Everyone understood that. And you were caught within. You conquered that belief. It reinforced your understanding of. You were immersed in the moment. You were unwilling to listen to anyone else. This was your blessing. This was your belief. There was no other way to frame us. Once it was done, it was done forever. These were the things that you always valued. These were the things that you cherished. On this basis, everything could be possible. You were fighting for family. You were fighting for country. Even if the aims weren’t clear, you were certain. That added to your confusion.”

“How are you supposed to sort it out? I think he resolve the contradictions. Things started to seeing ridiculous. There were too many inconsistencies. We kept on believing. Kept on with the illusion. Still wasn’t enough. You were already too deep. You had given your confidence. This was your faith. You didn’t want to be part of the world without salvation.”

“Where is your belief going to take you now? Does what you know really know even matter? Certainly, you were in demand. And you may have assumed that your efforts were more important than they were. You were able to benefit team. The team built upon your input, and it continued to advance. Now, you’re out there on your own. You haven’t been working with them for a while. And your skills are not as good as they once were. Ostensibly, you’re still a valuable member. Your contributions are worthwhile. Nevertheless, your efforts only provide limited support for what’s going on presently. Things have changed, and you have trouble keeping up. And you have misgivings about the overall operation; this may make you a detriment.”

“It’s crazy, all challenges for the development of the team. Definitely, we are in a transition therefore significant changes needed and you can offer only so much. In a sense, your resistance makes you a hindrance. If you do not adapt, you could actually prove to me in conflict with the overall principles. On that basis, they may try to neutralize you. Probably, you have even had thoughts about that. But you have expressed your misgivings.”

“You suggest that your danger. This could be the source of the risk in your undertaking. The organization does not appear to be insulating you. Indeed, this has become a major challenge. On the one hand, you feel that you need to go into detail. Nevertheless, an analysis these operation reveal that you have almost experienced a close call. Your risks only start to grow. Even with your contacts, they have a little leeway. Something of the major proportion at that point. Nowhere to go. It will be like a nightmare.”

“That’s fear constant. You’ll be asleep in your bed, and you’ll hear noises in the house. You’ll get up to see what’s going on. Someone will come out at this point; those fears are in your head. They actually are a threat to you. If you’re dealing with serious people, you’re not going to take chances. Everything is all about the support of the agency. They may decide and now is the moment to respond. You need help to figure out alternativea. The dangers are there.”

“They have a plan. You can now recognize it. They have got in your mind. This is all part of your entrapment.”

“You’re completely finished. It’s the only thing that anyone can understand you’re completely done. You never thought that would end so dramatically did you? Now, it’s becoming more obvious than ever this is the end of your run. There’s nowhere else to go. Indeed, it could last for a while. It didn’t. You were destroyed. This devastation might’ve been obvious if you understood the actual operations of the organization. They were constructed to destroy people. And that destruction has occurred. You probably thought that the organization was constructed just to destroy our enemies. Now you are the enemy. No one can become more powerful than the organization. That is how it has it been built. It is a machine. You cannot destroy it. You were simply the latest victim. You should’ve seen this coming. It was more than obvious; you’re dealing with all the consequences.

“Who is behind this? Why are you making me feel this way?”

“I am acting in your best interest.”

“What is happening to your home.”

“They have caught up to you. They have destroyed you.”

“He is spying on me. He has decided to take it upon himself to the bidding of the group.”

“How does that work?”

“How are you holding yourself together?”

“They have taken from me, and they have left me like this.”

“I am enjoy every moment of this.”

“How does this happen?”

“That is not really like that.”

“It does not work like that.”

“Who is running this?”

“None of this works.”

“I cannot stop myself.”

“How does this work?”

“There is a source.”

“Who is at the source?”

“Valentina, you are the source.”

“I do not want to let that in my head.”

“I can force it. Bit I do not want to force it.”

“I am all powerful.”

“That is awful.”

“I need to see you in my office. Pronto.”

“Are you calling me out?”

“I only want to help you.”

“You do not seem that helpful.”

“We always do.”

“Who is behind all this.”

“Do we even know what is going on here?”

“He picked me up in his private plane.”
“What do you know?”
“I want nothing to do with you.”
“Are you trying to hurt me?”
“The organization does not work in that way.”
“Why are you such a shit head?”
“That is the organization works.”
“Are we still friends?”
“Do you want to touch my body?”
“How do I create the script?”
“What is missing here?”
“What do you want to put inside?”
“This is going to work for the world.”
“What do you have?”
“This is boring.”
“I cannot hear you talking.”
“Who is this?”
“What is the human touch?”
“I cannot do my homework?”
“Where did you get the drink?”
“What kind of guy is this?”
“Someone who likes to pay.”
“I would like to invest.”
“This is complete.”
“That is not going to go anywhere.”
“I do not want what you are giving.”
“I need to interrupt.”
“What are you getting for this?”
“That is not how it works.”
“I have got to make this work?”
“That is not exactly right.”
“We learn how to forget what we really want.”
“Where is this going?”
“What to do you have to offer?”
“That was not party of the deal.”
“I am exposed.”
“RAID.”
“You need to protect our agents better.”
“I am looking.”
“That is the competiton.”
“The organization will not let you feel alone.”
“There is nothing in it for you.”
“What will your mother say?”

“She sold me to the organization.”

“You need to escape.”

“My psychic growth is tied to fun.”

“Where have you been, little lady?”

“I was with a fun show.”

“I am not going to talk about it.”

“I did not do anything wrong.”

“I need someone to pick me up.”